

HIGHER FAILSWORTH PRIMARY SCHOOL

Meet the Governors – Andrew Robinson

My passion is inclusion and Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND). Through personal experience, I co-founded POINT, an Oldham based charity that supports families of children and young people with SEND.

In my professional role, I have developed a wide range of practical knowledge in areas such as HR, Finance and Strategic Development and I believe I have a positive contribution to make to the school and the governing body.

As a former parent of Higher Failsworth Primary school, I know that the school share my own ambitions to provide an inclusive education to all children. I am delighted to be part of the school governing body supporting the school's development in any way I can.
